In the process of comprehensively deepening the reform of the country, higher education is also constantly carrying out reform and innovation, which is an important part of the national education system in the new era, providing a large number of professionals for the country's economic and social development. Cultivating and promoting the socialist core value system is not only the only way to realize the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation, but also an inexhaustible source of China's sustainable development. The core values of socialism are the cornerstone of China's future development, and they are the most important for contemporary college students. Under the current complex international and domestic situation, only by continuously strengthening the education of college students' socialist core values can we cultivate more high-quality talents that meet the requirements of the times for the development of the country.

1. The significance of cultivating college students' core socialist values

1.1 Conform to the needs of social development

With the continuous deepening of China's economic reform, the diversification of the social structure, and the change of the pattern of interests, various values and social ideas have also emerged. The core values of socialism have the characteristics of comprehensive content, rich connotation, and strong ideological and theoretical force, and can unite the thoughts of people at different class levels and with different interests and demands. Modern society puts forward higher requirements for talents, requiring them to have both professional ability and sound personality. The quality needs contained in the core values of socialism are based on the society, adapt to the needs of social development, improve the comprehensive quality of contemporary college students, and lay a solid foundation for the future development and promotion of young college students.

1.2 Improve the ideological and political teaching system

At the current stage, colleges and universities should not only cultivate students' professional knowledge and skills, but also cultivate a code of conduct for colleges and universities, so as to better meet the needs of social development and serve the socialist modernization drive. Integrating the core values of socialism into the teaching from the perspective of five education can improve the ideological and moral quality of college students, effectively educate them in ideology and politics, and promote their sustainable development and progress. In addition, through the establishment of socialist core values and vocational courses, students can have a deeper understanding of the core socialist values and effectively promote the growth and development of college students^[1].

1.3 Guide students to develop in an all-round way

College students are the mainstay of China's socialist modernization, and there are essential differences between college students and other personnel. To this end, college students must not only have good professional and cultural attainments, but also have good values, so that they can better promote the sustained development and progress of China's socialist modernization. At the same time, the values education of college students can enable them to form correct values in their studies, so that they can not only master professional knowledge and technology, but also acquire the ideological and moral qualities that are compatible with them, so that they can grow up healthily and develop in an all-round way, and make contributions to socialist construction.

2. The current situation of the cultivation of college students' socialist core values from the perspective of the integration of five educations

The integration of five educations is the "simultaneous development of five educations, integration and education", which is the educational idea put forward in the new era, insisting that education should realize the all-round development of people, and realize the fundamental task of people-oriented by cultivating complete people. From the perspective of the integration of five educations, the cultivation status of the core socialist values of college students shows a good development trend on the whole. However, in practice, there are still some problems and challenges.

2.1 The education method is single and lacks innovation

In the process of cultivating the core values of socialism, some colleges and universities still adopt traditional education methods, such as classroom lectures and theoretical indoctrination, which lack novelty and attractiveness. This single way of education can easily lead to students' boredom and resistance to the core values of socialism, and they cannot truly internalize them in their hearts and externalize them in their actions.

2.2 The practice link is weak and lacks depth

Although many colleges and universities have realized the importance of cultivating socialist core values, there is still a problem of emphasizing theory over practice in practice. Students lack the opportunity to participate and experience first-hand, and their understanding of the core values of socialism remains at the superficial level, making it difficult for them to truly integrate into their daily life and learning.

3. The cultivation path of college students' socialist core values from the perspective of the integration of five educations

3.1 Strengthen methods of education and guidance

Under the guidance of the core socialist values, strengthen the ideological and moral quality education of college students. Through propaganda, education and other means, the core values of socialism are internalized into the spiritual pursuit of college students, externalized into the conscious actions of students, and the integrity of the integration of five educations is enhanced, so as to form a harmonious and positive social atmosphere.

On the one hand, it is necessary to give priority to education and guide students to establish a correct world outlook, outlook on life, and values. It is necessary to attach importance to the practical role of ideological and political theory courses in colleges and universities, improve teaching methods such as inspiration, situations, and cases, and guide students to consciously practice the core socialist values. In addition, it is necessary to use various online teaching platforms to publicize the core socialist values, give play to the dissemination role of new media and new technologies, and create a good learning atmosphere for students.

On the other hand, it is necessary to give full play to the exemplary role of teachers. In the process of studying and disseminating the core socialist values, teachers should have a comprehensive understanding of them, strengthen their own work ability and moral quality, give full play to the power of example, use their noble personality charm to influence and influence students, and enhance students' correct ideals and beliefs.

3.2 Give play to the role of campus culture infiltration

As the main place for college students' learning activities, campus culture plays a pivotal role in the formation and development of students' ideological concepts. Therefore, it is necessary to strengthen the construction of campus culture in colleges and universities, effectively guide college students to resist negative and harmful information, improve the pertinence of the integration of five educations, and enable college students to truly do a good job as disseminators of the core values of socialism.

Through activities such as building campus culture and building class collective construction, the connotation of the socialist core value system will be further enriched. Colleges and universities can hire experts to give lectures on ethics and cultivate students' good habits of self-restraint. Through lectures on major events, college students are guided to take advanced typical figures as examples and enhance their political stance. Strengthen the publicity of important festivals such as Qingming Festival and Youth Day, strengthen students' understanding of history, and improve students' sense of responsibility and mission.

3.3 Establish a comprehensive safeguard mechanism

For the effective operation of the ideological and political education system and the full play of ideological and political education activities, there must be corresponding conditions and corresponding measures to enhance the effectiveness of the integration of the five educations. Only by establishing a sound operational system and guarantee mechanism can we ensure the long-term and stable development of education.

First, colleges and universities should put the cultivation of college students' socialist core values in the first place. Only by making concerted efforts and joint efforts can we establish a diversified guarantee system for the socialist core value system and achieve close coordination.

Second, moral education in colleges and universities should have excellent teachers. In terms of recruiting teachers, it is possible to recruit teachers majoring in ideological and political theory, as well as to recruit outstanding study counselors, student cadres, and party and government management personnel, so that they can join in the construction of the ideological and political work system, promote the smooth progress of ideological and political education in colleges and universities, strive to build a professional teaching team, and lay the foundation for cultivating college students' socialist core values^[2].

Third, it is necessary to create a good environment for policy guarantees. The party committees of schools should lead the departments concerned to revise and implement this issue, create a good environment for the ideological and political education of college students, and provide sufficient material guarantees and human resources.

4. Concluding remarks

To sum up, cultivating the socialist core values of college students from the perspective of the integration of five educations is a new educational practice. In the context of the integration of five educations, this paper explores the ways and strategies for cultivating the core values of socialism among college students, which not only promotes the all-round development of college students, but also helps students recognize their own values and responsibilities. Strengthening the way of education guidance, giving full play to the role of campus culture infiltration, and establishing a comprehensive guarantee mechanism are effective ways to promote the formation of college students' socialist core values from the perspective of the integration of five educations in the new era, and also help to effectively implement the overall goal of high-quality education of cultivating people with virtue.
