College students are the future of the motherland and the hope of the nation. Paying attention to their ideological and political education can promote their all-round development of morality, intelligence, physique, beauty and labor, and become the talents needed by the society. With the increasing number of the Party members in colleges and universities, the cultivation of ideological and political elements is the key content of education and teaching. To explore the integration of the Party building and ideological and political education in colleges and universities, we should give full play to the guiding role of the Party building and ideological and political education, and promote the coordinated development of the two, so as to promote the overall improvement of the quality level of college students.

1. On the relationship between the Party building and ideological and political education of college Students

1.1 The party building in colleges and universities provides an important entrance for the implementation of ideological and political education

The Party building in colleges and universities is the core content of Party building work in China. It refers to the implementation of purposeful education and teaching activities by Party building personnel in colleges and universities according to the physiological and psychological conditions of college students and the requirements of Party building. College students are in an important stage of developing correct values and ideological and political quality. We must give full play to the advantages and functions of education and teaching through positive guidance to them. The grass-roots party organizations in colleges and universities are the group that has the most contact with students, and is the disseminator and practitioner of the National Party building principles and policies. Party building in colleges and universities provides a guarantee for the development of ideological education, and can improve the ideological and political literacy of college students^[1].

From the perspective of Party building and ideological and political education in colleges and universities, the fundamental reason why they can work together lies in the relevance of their contents and implementation methods. First of all, from the content point of view, the party building in colleges and universities includes the construction of culture, ideology and other aspects, which is mainly for the management and education of grass-roots party organizations and personnel. In the content of ideological and political education in colleges and universities, there is ideal and belief education, which is to strengthen the identification and trust of contemporary college students to the state and the party organization, and make them establish correct values. Secondly, from the point of view of the two ways of realization, they are to let students receive education through the narration of theoretical knowledge and practice. Finally, from the perspective of both objectives, Party building in colleges and universities is to cultivate builders and successors of socialist cause, and ideological and political education in colleges and universities is to cultivate students' correct values, make them have noble character and quality, so as to become talents with both political integrity and ability required by society^[2]. In a word, both of them are related in content, implementation mode and goal, which is the premise of their coordinated development.

1.3 Carrying out ideological and political education can further promote the implementation of Party building

Nowadays, colleges and universities generally carry out ideological and political education through classroom theory and practice. At the same time, it also creates a harmonious cultural environment, which provides a carrier for the development of education and teaching. Ideological and political education has created conditions for the development of Party building in colleges and universities. The Party building in colleges and universities can be spread and educated through ideological and political education, so that students are affected imperceptibly, and the party building work is implemented^[3].

2. The construction of collaborative education mode of Party building and ideological and political education of college students

2.1 Realizing the coordination of education content and improve the pertinence and timeliness of the work

In college education and teaching, Party building is the basis and premise of ideological and political education, while ideological and political education is one of the contents and ways of Party building. Party building and ideological and political education in colleges and universities interact and interact. In order to promote the coordinated development of the two, it is necessary to find the similarities between the two work contents, starting from the similarities and exploring the education content, and regard it as the integration point of the two collaborative developments, so as to enhance the pertinence and timeliness of the education work.

In order to realize the synergy of the two contents, it is necessary to integrate the idea of "moral cultivation" into the collaborative education mode, and explore the most effective collaborative education content according to the common needs of teachers and students. Therefore, activities can be used to strengthen the communication and interaction between teachers and students. For example, regular meetings of Party members can be held to organize party members of teachers and students, strengthen the communication between them, and improve the level of teaching quality of teachers. Students can also be strict with themselves and put forward opinions and comments according to the teaching content in college education. At the same time, teachers and students should strengthen communication and cooperation to make common progress and development^[4].

2.2 To realize the coordination of educational subjects and ensure the scientific and effective education in colleges and universities

In order to speed up the construction of collaborative education mode of Party building and ideological and political education, colleges and universities should start from the educational subject, promote the synergy of education subjects, and promote the coordinated development and progress of Party building and ideological and political education, so as to ensure the scientific effectiveness of both education works. In the collaborative education mode of Party building and ideological and political education in colleges and universities, the main body of education is teachers and students. Teachers' work is to educate and guide students, spread correct ideas and improve students' ideological level, while students should actively absorb knowledge and improve their learning quality and efficiency. The effective development of education, we must give full play to the main role of teachers and students at the same time, and promote the coordinated development of education subjects.

In addition, in order to more effectively realize the coordination of the main body of education, colleges and universities should build a professional team for Party building and ideological and political work, and carry out scientific division of labor. In the party building and ideological and political team building, we must adopt effective means to encourage teachers and students to learn together, and have a comprehensive understanding of the working ideology. For example, colleges and universities can carry out teacher-student exchange seminars or add courses on Party building in ideological and political aspects in their daily work, so as to give full play to the subjective initiative of teachers and students, integrate the latest theoretical ideas and educational work, and achieve the best collaborative development effect, in order to ensure the scientific and effective education work in colleges and universities^[5].

2.3 To realize the synergy of educational form and ensure the advanced and epochal nature of higher education.

The party building and ideological and political education in colleges and universities are not limited to the classroom theoretical knowledge teaching. With the continuous development and progress of the times, the emergence of college students' network teaching and other forms of education, coupled with the development and popularization of network information technology, the traditional classroom teaching mode can no longer meet the needs of education and teaching. Therefore, the majority of educators need to update their own teaching ideas and means, integrate the traditional education methods with the new era education methods, and carry out education more effectively. In addition, in the process of practical teaching, college educators should use the new media platform to strengthen the ideological guidance of college students. For example, we can use microblog, WeChat and other communication platforms to publicize the party's ideological and political, policy and other content, so as to integrate it with offline theoretical knowledge teaching. Through the integration of educational forms, we ensure the coordination of educational forms, and thus more effectively meet the requirements of social development, and guarantee the advanced and contemporary of higher education^[6].

2.4 Formulate scientific and effective cooperative training mechanism

The coordinated development of Party building and ideological and political education in colleges and universities requires the establishment of a scientific and perfect collaborative training mechanism, that is to say, the two can be highly integrated in ideology and system. First of all, in terms of ideology, both of them need to carry out education and teaching with students as the core, and use the concept of moral cultivation to comprehensively improve the ideological and moral quality and cultural literacy of college students. Secondly, from the system point of view, in order to develop together, we need to build a perfect cooperation mechanism. In the system, we must make the form and purpose of the contract clear. Finally, in the development of collaborative training mechanism, the two can explore the educational forms and means that students are easy to accept and like through the way of online and offline integration, so that they can more actively participate in the work of Party building and ideological and political education, and achieve the best effect of collaborative education.

3. Conclusion

In a word, the Party building and ideological and political education are the key contents of colleges and universities. To fully implement and promote the development of college education and teaching, it is necessary to integrate the two to achieve the effect of collaborative education. At the same time, it puts forward higher requirements for education in the new period, which creates new opportunities and challenges for Party building and ideological and political education. Therefore, colleges and universities need to update educational ideas and means to promote the coordinated development of Party building and ideological and political education, so as to improve the quality and level of college education and teaching.
