In view of the Education of Marxist belief, relevant colleges and universities should make it clear that if they want to give full play to the practical value of this education work, they must persist in developing it for a long time and incorporate different contents of ideological and political education in different times, so that Marxist belief education work can fully highlight its characteristics of the times, truly keep pace with the times, to ensure that the ideological and political education needs can be fully met. Through the Education of belief in Marxism, we can effectively convey the new content and connotation of Marxism to the students, and realize the effective construction of the spiritual world of college students.

1. A summary of the education of Marxist belief

Marxist belief refers to the type of belief that is gradually formed and perfected in the course of the continuous development of society, the core content is people's trust and respect for the Marxist theory and the Social Progress and human development marked by Communism. In the New Era, General Secretary Xi also made a new summary of the belief in Marxism, which is a belief with socialism with Chinese characteristics. Only by adhering to this belief can we take a good road to the development of socialism with Chinese characteristics, can Be in the new era of the background to do a dare to work hard, forge ahead of the dreamer.

2. Problems existing in the education of Marxist belief in colleges and universities

First of all, in the school, the school did not create a good atmosphere in the campus of Marxism belief education, the importance of this education work is insufficient, that the education process to convey basic theoretical knowledge to students can be, the true value of the educational work is seriously neglected. In the actual teaching process, the Marxist belief education will be carried out together with the general ideological and political education work, and there is no effective distinction between the two ideological and political education contents, all this will have a direct impact on the effective implementation of the content of Marxist belief education. And through "Spoon-feeding" teaching knowledge indoctrinated to students will lead to students on the relevant educational content of boredom, resulting in lower effectiveness of faith education. Secondly, the current complex network environment will to some extent affect the effective development of ideological and political education. Students are easily influenced by unhealthy ideological trends on the Internet, and even lead to the distortion of college students' ideology and values when the situation is serious. And because the current Internet environment is very open, the university student's curiosity psychology is also relatively strong, therefore if the teacher can not make the positive guidance, the Marxism belief education work actual value will not obtain the effective display. Finally, the current college students have poor initiative to receive ideological and political education, almost no interest in the content of ideological and political education, seriously reduce the quality and efficiency of Marxist belief education. And at present, college students still have the problem of belief diversity. Although this problem is not wrong from the practical point of view, it still has a certain hindering effect on the development of the education of Marxist belief, this also has the certain degree influence to the university student to establish the good, the correct three views.

3. The implementation path of Marxist belief education in colleges and universities in the new era

3.1 To create a good atmosphere for the education of Marxist belief on campus

In the process of carrying out the education of Marxist belief, the school authorities should pay attention to the propaganda of the relevant educational contents, and fully strengthen the teachers' and students' attention to the ideological and political education work, make them aware of the important value of this educational work. In the process of making teaching plan, relevant staff should distinguish the education of Marxist belief from the work of basic ideological and political education, so as to improve the quality of education of Marxist belief effectively. For Teachers, teachers should actively change their teaching methods, improve the teaching model which is mainly based on “Cramming” theory, and pay attention to the combination of Li theory and practice, so that students can learn relevant knowledge, can Be used effectively. For example, in the teaching process teachers can organize students to carry out Marxist theory knowledge competition. In addition, in order to realize the efficient implementation of the education of Marxist belief, before the education is carried out, teachers should construct a perfect education system of Marxist belief according to the actual teaching content, to explain the relevant knowledge to the students step by step, so that the students can have a correct understanding of the content and core essence of the belief in Marxism, to ensure that the education of Marxist belief can be carried out with high quality and efficiency^[2].

3.2 Effective purification of network environment

Because the university student’s self-control ability is not strong enough, the network environment is also relatively open, therefore the university student is easy to be affected by the bad information. Therefore, in order to further enhance the effectiveness of Marxist belief education in universities, relevant government departments and universities should strengthen the supervision of the network, effectively purify the network environment. In this process, aiming at college students, college educators should also carry out the educational work of identifying network information platforms and judging related contents, so that college students can keep a clear mind on the Internet, to prevent the impact of bad information, so as to give full play to the effectiveness of Marxist belief education in colleges and universities to provide protection.

3.3 Strengthening the practice of Marxist belief education

In order to further improve the practice level of Marxist belief education, teachers should ensure that college students can form a conscious awareness of practice, and can implement unification after receiving Marxist belief education, and further consolidate the achievements of Marxist belief education in real life. In the real life, college students should take an active part in the relevant practical activities, have a deeper understanding of the ideal and belief of Marxism, and deeply appreciate the scientificity and correctness of Marxism and socialism. In order to enrich the practice of Marxist belief education in colleges and universities, the school authorities should increase educational investment in this field and create more favorable conditions for running schools and activities, so that the theory of Marxist belief education can be fully integrated with practical activities in real life, and further strengthen the emotional identity of university students for Marxist belief education.

4. Conclusion

To sum up, the education of Marxist belief is an important part of the ideological and political education system in colleges and universities. Therefore, in the process of carrying out this education work, colleges and teachers should pay more attention to it and create a good atmosphere for the education of Marxist beliefs on campus, further strengthen the practice of Marxist belief education to ensure that the education work can achieve good results. In addition, in order to further enhance the education level of Marxist belief, university educators should also optimize the network environment and strengthen the supervision of the campus network, so that the effectiveness of Marxist belief education can be brought into full play, which is to improve the ideological and moral quality of college students and personal qualities are of great practical significance.
