Fund Project: Shandong Province This article is an exploratory research on the teaching reform project of Taishan University: “Idioms and Golden Sentences” into “Ideological and Political Golden Courses” (SZ202024); Taian Education Science Planning Project: the phased results of the systematic research (TJK202106ZX001) on the integration of “idioms and golden sentences” into the integrated construction of ideological and political courses in large, medium and small schools.

Introduction

At this stage, colleges and universities need to comprehensively promote the construction of “big ideological and political courses” in accordance with the actual requirements put forward by our country, and clearly propose to carry out a batch of ideological and political “golden courses” to strengthen the publicity and utilization of high-quality educational resources in colleges and universities. Here, in order to promote the level of ideological and political education in our country, we must vigorously build “golden courses” to temper the golden key, cultivate golden seeds, and give full play to the teaching effect of sophisticated ideological and political education.

1. The practical significance of building the “golden course” of ideological and political theory courses in colleges and universities

1.1 Strengthen the “four consciousnesses”, strengthen the “four self-confidence”, and adhere to the “two safeguards” to build a “golden lesson” for ideological and political education

According to the specific implementation measures proposed in the guidance on further strengthening the ideological and political education of college students issued by the State Council of my country, these measures not only reflect my country’s emphasis on ideological and political education in colleges and universities, but also give follow-up according to the specific conditions of ideological and political education in colleges and universities. Development suggestions. According to the investigation of the current situation of ideological and political education in colleges and universities. Colleges and universities have always been a major battlefield of ideology and politics. Since China's reform and opening up, development has shown a regularity: when we relax the ideological and political theory courses in universities, it may lead to instability; when we strengthen ideological and political work in universities, that is, a harmonious and stable social environment has been formed. Therefore, starting from this point, colleges and universities need to build a "golden course" of ideological and political education, and use it as the backbone of ideological and political education innovation in colleges and universities, with Lide Shuren as the core, and the new concept of China's new era as the starting point. On the basis of "golden courses", the majority of students are cultivated with "four consciousnesses", "four self-confidence", and "two maintenance" education, and insist on developing the country, strive to achieve "a hundred feet to go further", and strive for college students to become successors to the socialist cause of "morality, intelligence, physical, beauty, and labor" under ideological and political education^[1].

1.2 To improve the pertinence and effectiveness of ideological and political education, we must build a "golden lesson"

At present, college education and teaching need to actively promote the perfection of the ideological and political course teaching system, and enhance the pertinence and effectiveness of ideological and political courses. In this process, colleges and universities need to fully consider the development needs of students to ensure that the content of the ideological and political education classroom is truly integrated into reality, so that students can benefit for life. "Post-00" is currently the most important part of college graduates. In the era of rapid development of network technology, college students have strong ability and characteristics to receive new knowledge, which makes the ideological and political work of college students face many problems. In the Internet age, the establishment of "golden courses" can effectively enhance the pertinence and effectiveness of college students' ideological and political work. It is not only an important means to train socialist builders and successors, but also changes due to events, changes with time, and changes. The objective requirements of the situation^[2].

1.3 To create a "golden lesson" for ideological and political education is an inevitable requirement to improve teachers' educational and teaching ability.

To carry out ideological and political education well, the key lies in the teachers, and to create a "golden course", we must have excellent teachers. my country has put forward new requirements for the ideological and political education system of colleges and universities from the level of education reform, that is, college ideological and political teachers should maintain a high political position, their own thinking and vision should be updated and broadened, and their personality should be correct and stable. From the perspective of ideological and political "golden courses", ideological and political teachers in colleges and universities have many tasks, from providing curriculum ideological and political resources to students, gradually transforming to creating teaching ideological and political courses, organizing curriculum ideological and political courses, and guiding students to complete The learning task of ideological and political theory and practice also includes the transformation of the teacher's own role .

2. The practical way to create the "golden course" of ideological and political theory courses in colleges and universities

2.1 Compaction of the main responsibility, for the creation of ideological and political "gold course" to provide a comprehensive guarantee

At this stage, colleges and universities need to work hard to promote the standardization and long-term effectiveness of ideological and political education, to ensure that the organization of ideological and political education in colleges and universities can be improved, the top-level design can be strengthened, the road map can be formulated, and the main responsibility can be truly compacted in turn to create a "golden course" of ideological and political education. Provide comprehensive guarantee.

2.2 Strengthen Curriculum Construction and Deeply Promote Socialist Thought with Chinese Characteristics into the Classroom in the New Era

Based on "casting souls and educating people", centering on the new socialist concept with distinctive Chinese characteristics in the new era, centering on the concept of cultivating people with virtue in the new era, continuously improving the construction of ideological and political education courses in colleges and universities, and in-depth promotion of the new era The socialist ideology with Chinese characteristics enters the classroom, so as to ensure that my country's new era thinking continues to penetrate into the minds and hearts of students after relying on the construction of ideological and political education gold courses in colleges and universities.

First of all, the introduction to socialism with Chinese characteristics in the new era should be carried out in colleges and universities across the country to strengthen the construction of a discipline system centered on the concept of socialism with Chinese characteristics in the new era. In this process, adhere to the "three most principles", "the most advanced content, the best teachers, the most comprehensive guarantee, scientifically arrange the teaching theme, strengthen the management of the classroom process, and organize famous experts to write the content of the textbook. For example, the high-end innovation center of "ideological and political course" of Peking University is an important academic resource of the Institute of socialist thought with Chinese characteristics. Jointly create a comprehensive teaching resource of "Introduction to Socialism with Chinese Characteristics in the New Era", so that it can play a leading and exemplary role .

2.3 Adhere to the "Six Essentials" Standard and Cultivate Teachers of Ideological and Political "Golden Course"

At present, the party's general requirements of "strong thinking, new thinking, broad vision, strict discipline, and good personality" should be effectively implemented, and the ideological and political teaching team in colleges and universities should be built, and the teaching staff of ideological and political courses should be combined with young colleges and universities. Teachers are connected; strengthen teacher training and implement the Ministry of Education's "Special Teacher Special Appointment Program". In accordance with the actual requirements given by the Ministry of Education, establish a basic ideological and political education team, organize teachers to participate in teaching activities, summarize teaching practices, improve the collective lesson preparation and listening system, etc., continuously improve relevant education and teaching methods, and improve school-based courses Review and evaluation system.

Concluding remarks:

The above puts forward summary suggestions for the rational creation of ideological and political gold courses in colleges and universities. On this basis, we will solidly promote the innovation mechanism of ideological and political education theory courses, and continuously strengthen the ideological and theoretical nature of ideological and political courses. "Requirements, strengthen the construction of the teaching staff, and truly achieve the knowledge effect of improving the teaching level of the curriculum, in turn, it provides more" golden courses "for the teaching of ideological and political courses in colleges and universities and small and medium-sized colleges and universities across the country".
