Introduction

The theoretical achievement of the Sinification of Marxism is an effective, scientific and vital theoretical system for all kinds of problems in China's social development. Today, under the influence of different values and ideas, the ideological achievements of Sinification of Marxism are of great practical significance to the ideological and political education of contemporary college students.

1. The Scientific connotation and theoretical achievements of the Sinification of Marxism

At the end of the 19th century and the beginning of the 20th century, the country and the nation were at a critical juncture of life and death. On the basis of examining the domestic situation, the older generation of revolutionaries creatively put forward the theory of new democratic revolution and led the Chinese people to achieve national and national independence. In the practice of leading socialist construction, they have made a series of innovations in all aspects of China's modernization construction. this is the first time that China has localized Marxism and established its own ideological system in China. it provides the basis and conditions for the study of Marxism in China in the future. The theoretical system of socialism with Chinese characteristics is born under the historical theme of peace and development.

The collective leadership before and after reform and opening up firmly grasped the fundamental principles of Marxism, stressed the need to unswervingly follow the road of seeking truth from facts, and regarded reform and opening up as an important starting point for China's modernization drive. Since then, under the severe and complex international and domestic situation, China has always adhered to the belief of Marxism and put forward the "three represents" on the basis of the theories of its predecessors, which has enriched and developed the theoretical system of socialism with Chinese characteristics.

Entering the new millennium, China has initiated a new journey of building a well-off society in an all-round way, establishing the guiding ideology of people-oriented, ensuring and improving people's livelihood, promoting sustainable development, the construction of ecological civilization, and building a socialist harmonious society, forming a scientific concept of development.

Since socialism with Chinese characteristics entered a new era, based on the new historical position and the development of the international community, China has put forward Chinese Dream with Chinese characteristics, the "four comprehensive" development layout, and the "Belt and Road Initiative" proposal. Community with a shared future for mankind, these new ideas have not only promoted the development of socialism with Chinese characteristics, but also from the perspective of all mankind. A new Chinese wisdom and Chinese solution have been explored to solve this problem.

2. The theoretical significance of the Sinification of Marxism

2.1 The basis for the cultivation of Youth's sense of Social responsibility in the new era

After the reform and opening up, the country pays more and more attention to the cultivation of talents while realizing peace and development. Comrade Deng Xiaoping stressed that "intellectuals are members of the people and should contribute to the socialist society" and put forward the important proposition that "science and technology is the primary productive force." After entering the 1990s, facing the increasingly severe pressure of social competition, China has successively issued the policies of "rejuvenating the country through science and education" and "sustainable development". In the course of one hundred years of development, from the perspective of young students, the core of ideological and political education for contemporary young people with Marxist Sinification theory is to cultivate their sense of social responsibility. It is necessary to establish a correct concept of development in the hearts of students, take the great rejuvenation of the nation as their mission, use what they have learned to improve themselves, and contribute to the cause of China's modernization, so as to realize their own life value.

2.2 The ideological source of upholding ideals and beliefs in the new era

The Marxist mass viewpoint runs through the starting point to the end of the theory and practice of Marxism in China. It is an important driving force to promote the rich connotation and further development of the theoretical achievements of Marxism in China. Mao Zedong thought is the first major theoretical achievement formed by the first historical leap in the history of Sinification of Marxism, and it is also the theoretical source for China to carry out its independent historical mission. Mao Zedong thought gathers the collective wisdom of the Chinese Communists and leads the Chinese people to gradually realize that the people are the masters of the country. In the 1990s, under the specific circumstances of the complex international situation, Deng Xiaoping put forward that Marxism still has important guiding significance in theory, and socialism has strong justice and vitality. Deng Xiaoping's reform thought was formed on the basis of the national conditions at the beginning of the new period and adapted to the needs of reform and development at that time. Deng Xiaoping Theory based on the times not only promoted the development of economy, culture and education, but also inspired young reserve talents to move forward.

Today, the thought of socialism with Chinese characteristics in the new era plays a very important role in guiding the broad masses of young students to establish correct ideals and beliefs. Many of the General Secretary's series of important speeches are aimed at young students in China. this series of speeches have grasped the development situation of the country and entrusted social responsibility to young people, so that while they are studying, they also understand their own social responsibilities and historical tasks, and enhance their confidence and determination to establish lofty ideals and beliefs. The General Secretary said: "only by putting enough effort into establishing a solid foundation can we have strong immunity and resistance." The theoretical spirit contained in the theoretical achievements of the Sinification of Marxism is the root of young students' firm ideals and beliefs. Contemporary China must strengthen its ideals and beliefs if it wants to adhere to and develop socialism with Chinese characteristics. When studying the theoretical achievements of Marxist Sinification, young college students should profoundly understand the formation, development and ideological connotation of the theoretical achievements of Marxist Sinification, deeply understand and understand the purpose of the Party, and turn it into heart and action.

2.3 The guiding Theory for students to form a scientific way of thinking

The most fundamental world outlook and methodology of Marxism are historical materialism and dialectical materialism. The theoretical achievements of Sinification of Marxism inherit the most fundamental world outlook and methodology of Marxism. By using the theoretical achievements of Sinification of Marxism, we can cultivate college students' scientific way of thinking and understand and solve problems in a more scientific and comprehensive way. In fact, the hundred-year history of Sinification of Marxism has always adhered to the basic principle of taking history as a mirror and seeking truth from facts, devoted itself to solving China's practical problems, and not only created advanced theoretical achievements. moreover, it has also witnessed the glorious course of the party's understanding of the world, changing the world, promoting the deepening of reform, and constantly moving towards success. Based on the scientific world outlook and methodology, the Sinification of Marxism, standing on the long river of history, summed up the law of development of our country from the period of the new democratic revolution to the period of society with Chinese characteristics in the new era with historical vision and great wisdom, and solved a series of problems in China's development. Since entering the new era, as the second theoretical achievement of the Sinification of Marxism, the theoretical system of socialism with Chinese characteristics conforms to the development situation at home and abroad, keeps pace with the times, and adheres to dialectical materialism and historical materialism. It points out the direction for China's future development.

3. The Strategy of integrating the theoretical achievements of Marxism with Sinification into the work of ideological and political Education in Universities

3.1 Attaching importance to students' subjectivity and improve teaching effect

On the basis of implementing the basic task of establishing morality and cultivating people, the education of ideals and beliefs for young college students should be emphasized from the content of ideological and political education. Starting from the specific period of the emergence of Mao Zedong thought and the theory of socialism with Chinese characteristics, it lays a solid foundation for the broad masses of young students to deeply understand their connotation, with emphasis on the original intention of seeking happiness for the people and national rejuvenation. Make young students realize their social responsibility and mission, establish the concept that individuals and the country share weal and woe, and pay close attention to the development and revitalization of the country and the nation. Make due contributions to the country while promoting personal development. From the perspective of young people's group characteristics and individual development, ideological and political education should not only follow the traditional teaching methods, but also conform to the thinking mode of contemporary youth. Make full use of the methods of network and practice, break the traditional classroom teaching model, take theory as the basis, create an atmosphere of theoretical education in an all-round way, and guide students to accept it actively rather than passively, so as to realize the sublimation of thought, fully integrate the value of life and ideals and beliefs into the great revival of the motherland, truly apply what we have learned, and combine theory with practice.

3.2 Using the Internet to carry out ideological and political Education and promote the spread of mainstream ideas

It is an inevitable trend to combine the theoretical achievements of Sinification of Marxism with ideological and political education. With the increasingly mature and widely used Internet technology today, the theoretical achievements of Marxist Sinification will be more deeply integrated into the work of ideological and political education. On the one hand, in the Internet era, the theoretical achievements of the Sinification of Marxism must also stand on the "commanding heights". By learning the rational and scientific characteristics, students can understand the essence and superiority of the Sinification of Marxism, so as to resist the western capitalist trend of thought, prevent the bad ideological influence, and ensure the steady progress of ideological and political education. On the other hand, the General Secretary pointed out, "Information technology has brought unprecedented development opportunities to China, and every industry should seize this opportunity." There is no doubt that Information technology also brings unprecedented opportunities to ideological and political teaching. Universities should give full play to their own advantages, make use of the convenience of the Internet, introduce new teaching models for ideological and political teaching, strengthen the transmission of knowledge, and help students establish correct ideas.

3.3 Enriching the ideological and political courses, and cultivate students' scientific thinking ability

At present, the ideological and political courses in universities should focus on the theme of new age education and enrich the classroom with this theme. The theoretical achievements of Sinification of Marxism have a scientific theoretical system and logical evolution process, and the philosophical thoughts and methods of dialectical materialism and historical materialism contained therein are the scientific methods to guide college students' thinking and practice. Therefore, in classroom teaching, attention should be paid to training them to learn a scientific way of thinking from these theoretical achievements. And better interpret the scientific and advanced nature of these theoretical results.

3.4 Creating a harmonious and friendly campus atmosphere

A harmonious campus atmosphere is conducive to students to play a positive psychological implication function, so that they are more willing to integrate into the school, take the initiative to communicate with others, so as to better adapt to school life. In addition, creating a harmonious and friendly campus atmosphere can also cultivate college students' good interpersonal psychology. Therefore, in the ideological and political education in colleges and universities, the relevant educators must es-establish a good communication mechanism with students, timely understand the psychological state of students, and guide their value. For example, teachers can communicate with students through WeChat groups, e-mails, Tencent meetings and other online platforms to let students express their feelings and vent their emotions. In addition, through the information platform, college students and teachers can also communicate through the network to improve students' communication skills, so that students can feel a good campus environment in the process of learning. thus it provides a favorable environment for realizing the organic combination of the theoretical achievements of Marxism in China and the ideological and political teaching in universities.

3.5 Building a team of first-class teachers and carry forward the theoretical achievements of Marxism in China

The task of ideological and political teaching is rich and of great significance, and it needs a team of high-quality teachers. In the current ideological and political education in colleges and universities, teachers with good teaching quality should be selected for teaching research. First, we must have excellent ability to transform theoretical thinking and have a deep understanding of Marxist theoretical knowledge. Second, it is necessary to establish a correct political belief and the educational thought of people-oriented and people-oriented. In daily teaching and life, we can integrate the theoretical achievements of Sinification of Marxism into real life, and explain the specific application of Marxism according to the development trend of the times, so as to make students understand the profound connotation of Sinification of Marxism.

4. Conclusion

In a word, the theoretical achievements of the Sinification of Marxism have been formed in different historical backgrounds and different stages of development, and their emphasis is also different, but they are all based on the basic principles and methods of Marxism. And they all have strong national characteristics and the characteristics of the times. For this reason, we must fully understand and grasp the connotation and value of the times of the theoretical achievements of Marxist Sinification, meet the needs of the development of the information age, give full play to its functions of the times, and inject new vitality into the work of establishing morality and cultivating people in the new era.
