Family education, as the earliest education for students to contact with, has a profound impact on it, and affects the future growth and development of students from the three dimensions of emotion, morality and thought. Students' comprehensive ability, ideological and moral consciousness and political quality are the fundamental of their future development, which will help them to establish a correct world outlook, outlook on life and values, and promote the positive and healthy growth of students. Good family education is an effective connection between ideological and political education in colleges and universities, but at present, there is a gap between family education and ideological and political education in colleges and universities, and the lack of effective communication, and the quality of family education needs to be improved.

1. The Significance of Family Education to Ideological and Political Education in Colleges and Universities

1.1 The significance of ideological and political education

Good ideological and political education can cultivate students' ideological and moral consciousness, improve their own political quality, establish a correct outlook on life, world outlook and values, and provide a guarantee for students to maintain their mental health and establish a rich spiritual world. Strengthen ideological and political education is an important way to build the socialist modern talent power, both family, society or school must focus ideological and political education and construction, students positive, healthy, correct ideological and political ideas in the process of the development of the far-reaching influence, strengthen students' ideological and political education can help students quickly grow up into a high-quality talents meet the socialist core values. Ideological and political education is based on the party's core leadership thought and guided by Marxism, and provides comprehensive education for students from political, ideological, emotional and other dimensions, and carries out ideological and political education in families, society and schools, among which the political education in families and schools is more concentrated. When students are facing the impact of other values and culture, to rely on their own will faith to the beginner's mind, in continuous learning to improve the ideological and moral quality and cultural accomplishment, draw essence from the Chinese excellent traditional culture and national spirit, cultivate their own feelings and national pride, become an ideal, quality of high quality talent.

1.2 Family education is the starting point of education

The starting point of each student's learning is the family. In the process of continuous growth and development, the family's education and influence on the students never stop. Before entering colleges and universities, students' ideological and moral and personality quality have been formed, among which the influence of family education is very far-reaching. Good family education can help students to establish a correct ideological and political view, cultivate students' strong and studious personal character, so that students in the ideological and political education in colleges and universities more smoothly, healthy and positive learning and growth. Because the object of college education is not only a single student, each student's political thought level is different, so in the ideological and political education of students, to some extent, pertinence is low, affect the final education effect, and family education can fundamentally improve the students' personal political thought level, enable students to better accept ideological and political education in colleges and universities, improve the quality of learning and the learning effect, so as to improve their ideological and moral level, cultivate their own personal quality. Scientific and effective family education can provide a guarantee for the ideological and political education in colleges and universities, deepen the influence of ideological and political education on students, and provide a solid backing for students' future growth and development.

1.3 Family education helps students to build the "three views"

Correct world outlook, outlook on life and values can help to establish a rich spiritual world, promote the healthy and positive growth and development of students, and affect their attitude and views on the world, individuals and things. Family education mainly affects students from the emotion and thoughts, in the comprehensive information age, college students are vulnerable to the impact of the outside thoughts and culture, and effective emotion and ideological guidance can help students build the correct "three", good family education for students instill socialism and core values, with materialist attitude towards the world, life and things, cultivate students' independent personality, guide students to develop in the right direction. The core of ideological and political education in colleges and universities is to help students to establish the correct "three views", complete the educational mission of cultivating moral education, and improve students' comprehensive ability and personal quality. Effective family education can lay a solid foundation for the ideological and political education in colleges and universities, and help students to develop better.

2. Measures to improve the effectiveness of family education

2.1 Clarify the importance of family education

Colleges and universities should help parents and students to clarify the importance of family education, help parents to develop the awareness of family education, and guide students to respect their parents and communicate with their parents more. Schools can be held by online meeting family education theme parents meeting, requires students and parents together online, around the family education and ideological and political education to carry out the meeting, help parents and students clear family education profound influence on students, emphasizes the ideological and political education to cultivate the role of students' ideological and moral consciousness and political quality. Family education can help students to establish a good world outlook, outlook on life and values, maintain students' physical and mental health, and guide students to grow and develop actively and healthily. Parents should establish a correct concept of education, care for students, love students, respect students, fulfill the responsibility of education and guidance, and establish the concept of lifelong education. Students should respect and care about their parents, communicate with their parents more, listen to their opinions and suggestions more, and actively share the school life with their parents. The school can also assign parents and students to complete homework, such as sharing housework, washing feet for parents' feet, family confession, holiday greetings, etc. , to shorten the distance between students and parents, and further enhance the contact between school and family. By helping parents and students to clarify the importance of family education, increase the interaction between parents and students, cultivate their correct concept of family education, and lay a solid foundation for the implementation of ideological and political education.

2.2 Build a home-school interconnection platform

For a long time, the communication between home and school has been the key and difficult point in education. Schools should use the Internet information technology to build a home-school interconnection platform and enhance the communication between home and school. Compared with the family education, the college education itself has the dominant and systematic advantages, so we should take the initiative to connect with the family to help the families understand the students' learning situation and life in the school, and the school can also learn about the performance of the students in the family through the platform. Through the Internet information technology, colleges and universities can establish a home-school interconnection platform, help students establish learning files, and regularly give feedback with their parents on students' learning situation and performance in school. Parents can also communicate with teachers about the recent situation of students through the home-school Internet platform, consult with teachers about family education issues, and further exchange teaching opinions. Schools can also establish family files for students through the Internet platform, understand the students' family education environment, and develop personalized education and teaching for students. Teachers should pay special attention to the students with special family conditions, special physical and mental conditions, and give them more care and guidance in the daily education and teaching work, which fully can reflect the role of personalized education. It can also open the use authority of students on the home school Internet platform, regularly push the prompts to encourage students to communicate with students, and regularly push the soft text or courses of family education, so that parents and students can clarify the role of family education, and give full play to the leading characteristics of colleges and universities.

3. Conclusion

Family education is the starting point of education. Together with the ideological and political education in colleges and universities, we should cultivate students "three views", maintain students' physical and mental health, and escort the growth and development of students. Family education should give full play to the role of education and guidance, establish a close contact with schools, and help to further improve the efficient ideological and political education system. Parents should make clear the importance of family education, communicate with schools and teachers more, care about students' learning situation, school performance, etc. , and improve their own educational level and cultural literacy. Schools should play a leading role in building a home-school interconnection platform, establishing family files for students, and carrying out personalized teaching activities. Students should respect their parents, improve their comprehensive ability, establish the correct "three views", improve their own ideological and political consciousness and political quality, and strive to grow into high-quality national talents.
