Introduction:

At present, China has entered a new era of socialism. This new era is the result of long-term hard struggle in China, and it is a kind of achievement that connects the past with the future. From the perspective of the new era, college students, as a key force in the future development of our country, are the hope and strength of our country in the future. In college education, ideological and political theory education is the main direction and content of ideological and political work in colleges and universities, and it is an important place to spread and disperse Marxism. In the process of ideological and political education, safety education plays a very important role in improving the effectiveness of education. The success of ideological and political education for college students is not only related to the development of talents, but also related to the survival and peril of the whole nation, the future prosperity of the country and the final achievement of Socialism with Chinese characteristics's construction.

1. The background of the development of the times based on the perspective of the new era

1.1 The concept of the new era is the only way for the development of colleges and universities under the new situation

Colleges and universities undertake the main responsibilities of China's higher education, which is an important part of China's overall education and plays a very important educational role in cultivating all-round professional talents. Under the new situation, colleges and universities should implement the concept of the new era, establish and improve the working mechanism of whole process, all-round and all-round education, firmly grasp every link of ideological and political work, always adhere to safety education as the core requirement, and accelerate the development of ideological and political education in colleges and universities, which is the only way to adapt to the development requirements under the new situation and realize the growth of endogenous power in colleges and universities.

1.2 The concept of a new era is the objective need to realize students' comprehensive growth

The current and future development direction of China's higher education should be consistent with China's development concepts and requirements. Higher education bears the important responsibility of cultivating future successors of the socialist cause with comprehensive growth for China. Therefore, the ideological and political education in colleges and universities under the new situation should adhere to the students as the main body, in accordance with the requirements of safety education, from the perspective of the actual situation of students' development, and continuously improve the quality of ideological and political education in colleges and universities. The concept of the new era requires colleges and universities to stimulate safety education factors in many aspects to the maximum extent on the basis of respecting students' dominant position, which embodies the objective need to realize students' comprehensive growth under the new situation.

2. The safety education of ideological and political education in colleges and universities from the perspective of the new era

In today's world, all kinds of cultures are complicated, and all kinds of cultures merge and diverge with each other. In the past, the traditional method of teaching students safety education mainly based on textbook knowledge is no longer applicable, and it can't explain all kinds of new problems, new images and new contents in the period of social change. The professional knowledge and life knowledge about world outlook, outlook on life and values that students have learned are often affected by some negative factors, which may lead to mistakes in students' evaluation orientation. At present, the ideological and political theory education in colleges and universities in China mainly includes ideological training, the general situation of modern Chinese history, the situation and policies, etc. These professional education work is closely combined with safety education issues. From the perspective of the new era, all colleges and universities are actively exploring the most effective educational methods. In terms of specific methods, they mainly include theoretical knowledge learning and practical activity education, but these two educational methods are in an extremely unbalanced state, and theoretical knowledge education accounts for a large proportion. Although the country is now vigorously supporting and encouraging the practice of safety education in colleges and universities, the specific implementation and universality of safety education are far from the theoretical knowledge education, and the specific results of safety education in ideological and political education in colleges and universities are cautious due to the lack of external guarantee measures for practical activities, the restrictive cognitive ability of students and the narrow scope of practical activities.

3. The role of ideological and political education in colleges and universities in safety education from the perspective of the new era

3.1 Discuss and speak in groups

As a professional teacher of ideological and political education in colleges and universities, although we don't have much contact and understanding with students like school counselors, we should still make changes in safety education methods, innovate and use different education methods, communicate with students as much as possible, and deeply understand all aspects of college students' development, especially their outlook on life, world outlook and values, so that ideological and political theory education can really play its role, promote the implementation of quality education for college students and better cultivate them. In the ideological and political education in colleges and universities from the perspective of the new era, teachers can combine social security issues, textbook knowledge and content to set up some professional questions, divide students into several different groups, ask students to discuss and summarize in class, form written materials or materials, and then give classified speeches on related topics. The content summarized by students should be innovative, consistent with what students have seen and heard in their lives, and their research and analysis content should be fully integrated with the hot news of safety current affairs. Through this method, students' ability to analyze, study and solve problems can be improved, and students' attention, understanding and awareness of national security events and their own development can be enhanced, and their enthusiasm and initiative to participate in education, classroom and discussion of social hot news events can be increased. Through mutual communication and communication, we can accomplish tasks, prevent many students from pretending to understand and fish in troubled waters, so that every student and member can be promoted, and their ability to study, analyze and deal with problems can be honed, so that college students can become all-round professional talents who analyze and deal with problems, exercise their knowledge and express their abilities.

3.2 Practice site inspection

From the perspective of the new era, the foundation of ideological and political theory education in colleges and universities is that theoretical knowledge is closely linked with practical activities, which is also a compulsory education that every student should study. In the process of ideological and political education, if teachers simply teach students safety theory education, the learning effect of students will be greatly reduced. If students are allowed to participate in relevant practical activities and have corresponding practice venues, and then use group discussion to analyze and solve problems, investigate and understand students' current situation and other educational methods, it will have a more profound impact and understanding on students and have a more important significance for what they have learned. For example, when students learn ideological education, teachers and students should make adequate preparations before class, lead students to prisons and other places, and listen carefully to the daily summary made by prisoners. They benefit deeply and are deeply touched, and can deeply understand the significance and value of protecting their own safety. At present, college students are in the critical period of the formation, development and gradual improvement of their outlook on life, world outlook and values. Although they can quickly accept new things and new knowledge, they are always prone to get emotional because of their young age and impulsive personality. The teaching of professional knowledge of rule of law can help students gradually cultivate correct thinking consciousness. Under the correct guidance of teachers, college students can continue to learn, improve and improve themselves. When they encounter problems, they can analyze and think from the perspective of professional knowledge, and gradually develop a rational attitude to solve problems rationally.

Conclusion

All in all, from the perspective of the new era, we believe that in the ideological and political theory education in colleges and universities, through the joint efforts of the state, society, the masses, students, teachers, families, schools and other forces, we will continue to analyze, discuss and improve, and closely combine the ideological and political theory education in colleges and universities with the current safety management news events, social phenomena and problems, and the educational effect of ideological and political theory education will definitely be further improved. The professional education in colleges and universities will also be greatly improved, which will cultivate more and more professional comprehensive talents for China in the new era, and eventually urge China to enter the ranks of world powers and powers as soon as possible, and contribute its due professional strength to the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation.
