

Two Reflections on Doing Well in the Arming Work of Universities

Zhiwen Zhang

Guangxi Police College, 530000

---

Abstract: Universities need to effectively carry out their arming work. They need to have a clear understanding of the situation and effectively enhance their understanding and cognition of doing a good job in the arming work of universities, accurately locate and focus on the key points of university arming work, driving the overall situation to improve, and dare to take responsibility and correctly grasp the methods of carrying out arming work in universities. Doing a good job in the arming work of universities requires scientific methods and leadership support. Universities should also attach great importance to this work, establish sound systems and organizational structures, and strengthen leadership and guidance; establish a comprehensive education and training system; strengthen management; carry out various activities; create a strong national defense atmosphere; strengthen cooperation. Only in this way can the arming work in universities be effectively promoted.

Keywords: Higher Education Institutions; Arming Work; Reflection; Proposal

---

Introduction

The arming work in universities is an important component of national security work, and it is necessary to raise awareness and effectively enhance understanding of how to do a good job in arming work in universities. Specifically, it can be understood from the following aspects: Firstly, universities are an important base for cultivating and cultivating talents for building and defending the country, and their security work is related to the long-term stability of the country and the safety of people's lives and property. Therefore, universities should fully recognize the importance and necessity of doing a good job in the arming work of universities, regard it as an important component of national security work, strengthen organizational leadership and institutional construction, and ensure that all work is carried out in an orderly manner. Secondly, the arming work in universities is an important way to achieve comprehensive development. The arming work in universities is an important way to cultivate talents with comprehensive moral, intellectual, physical, and aesthetic development, strong military qualities, and political consciousness. Therefore, universities should take grasping the arming work of universities as an important means and approach to achieve comprehensive development, continuously improve the comprehensive quality and military literacy of college students, and cultivate them to become talents with strong military qualities, political awareness, and management abilities. Finally, the arming work in universities is an important aspect of serving local economic development. Colleges and universities should take effective arming work as an important measure to serve local economic development, improve social service capabilities, and promote student employment and entrepreneurship. In serving the development of local economy, universities should make it one of the important tasks to ensure campus safety and stability, strengthen security prevention and management, timely identify and solve campus safety hazards and conflicts and disputes, and ensure campus safety and stability.

1. Recognizing the Situation and Effectively Enhancing the Understanding and Cognition of Doing a Good Job in Arming Work in Universities

First of all, the arming work in universities is an important component of national security work. As an important base for cultivating and defending national talents, universities' security work is related to the long-term stability of the country and the safety of people's lives and property. Therefore, universities should fully recognize the importance and necessity of doing a good job in the arming work of universities, regard it as an important component of national security work, strengthen organizational leadership and institutional construction, and ensure that all work is carried out in an orderly manner.

Second, the arming work in universities is an important aspect of serving local economic development. In serving the development of local economy, universities should make it one of the important tasks to ensure campus safety and stability, strengthen security prevention and management, timely detect and handle campus safety hazards and conflicts and disputes, and ensure campus safety and stability.

Therefore, universities should take effective arming work as an important measure to serve local economic development, improve social service capabilities, and promote student employment and entrepreneurship. At the same time, it is necessary to strengthen cooperation and exchanges with local governments, enterprises, social organizations, and other aspects, and jointly promote the development of arming work in universities to a higher level.

2. Finding the Right Positioning, Focusing on the Key Points of University Arming Work, and Driving the Overall Situation to Improve

Firstly, the arming work in universities is an important component of national security work. As an important base for cultivating talents, universities' security work is related to the long-term stability of the country and the safety of people's lives and property. Therefore, universities should fully recognize the importance and necessity of doing a good job in the arming work of universities. As an important component of national security work, they should strengthen organizational leadership and institutional construction to ensure that all work is carried out in an orderly manner.

Secondly, the arming work in universities is an important way to achieve comprehensive development. Therefore, universities should take grasping the arming work of universities as an important means and approach to achieve comprehensive development, continuously improve the comprehensive quality and military literacy of college students, and cultivate them to become talents with strong military qualities, political awareness, and management abilities.

Thirdly, the arming work in universities is an important aspect of serving local economic development. In serving the development of local economy, universities should make it one of the important tasks to ensure campus safety and stability, strengthen security prevention and management, timely detect and handle campus safety hazards and conflicts and disputes, and ensure campus safety and stability. Finally, the arming work in universities is an important aspect of promoting students' employment and entrepreneurship.

3. Daring to Take Responsibility and Correctly Grasping the Methods of Carrying out Arming Work in Universities

As an important component of national security work, the arming forces department of universities must always adhere to the direct leadership of the school party committee in carrying out work. The school party committee should fulfill its top priority, strengthen its leadership and guidance on the arming work in universities, and create a favorable environment and conditions for the development of the armed forces department in universities. Specifically, the school party committee should fully play the following roles:

The first is to improve the organizational structure. A leadership group for the arming forces work in universities should be established, and the division of labor and responsibilities should be clarified. The leadership and guidance of the armed forces department in universities should be strengthened.

The second is to establish and improve systems. A sound system for university arming work, including work content, procedures and standards, management and assessment should be established, which can standardize the management and assessment of university arming work. Specifically, the following aspects need to be addressed:

Work description: clarifying the responsibilities and tasks of arming work in universities, including organizational management, team building, emergency drills, etc. Procedures and standards: developing scientific and reasonable work procedures and standards to ensure standardized and orderly work. Management and assessment: establishing a sound management system, including work records, assessment and evaluation, to ensure work quality and efficiency. Funding guarantee: clarifying the source and scope of funding for arming work in universities and ensuring sufficient funding and effective utilization. Cooperation and exchange: strengthening cooperation and exchange with local governments, enterprises and other relevant departments to jointly promote the arming work of universities. In short, establishing a sound system for university arming work is the key to ensuring the orderly development of university arming work. It is necessary to clarify responsibilities, procedures and standards, management and assessment requirements, standardize management and assessment, and ensure the quality and efficiency of arming work in universities.

The third is to strengthen guidance services. In order to establish and improve the contact mechanism for members of the university's arming work leadership group, hold regular meetings, listen to reports from the university's armed forces department and solve practical problems, the following measures can be taken:

Establishing a liaison mechanism: determining the person in charge and participants of the liaison mechanism, including members of the leadership group and liaison officers of the university's armed forces department, clarifying the purpose, content, and requirements of the liaison mechanism to ensure effective coordination and cooperation among various tasks. Determining the meeting time and location: determining the meeting time and location based on work arrangements and needs. Meetings can be held in internal conference rooms or designated locations of universities, as well as outside designated locations. Listening to reports: listening to reports from the armed forces department of universities, understanding the progress and existing problems of arming work in universities. Communication and exchange can be conducted through telephone, email, on-site visits, and other means. Solving practical problems: For practical problems encountered in the arming work of universities, efforts can be made to promote work through coordination, communication, and research on solutions. In the process of solving problems, it is important to focus on practical results and efficiency, avoiding formality or delaying problem-solving time.

The fourth is to strengthen policy support. Sound policy measures, such as providing financial support and talent introduction policy support for university arming work, should be strengthened, and more outstanding talents need to be encouraged to join the university arming work team.

The fifth is to create a good atmosphere. The publicity and promotion of arming work in universities should be strengthened, making more people understand the importance and necessity of arming work in universities and improving the understanding and awareness of national defense knowledge among college students.

In short, the school party committee should implement the first priority, strengthen leadership and guidance on the arming work of universities, formulate and improve systems, establish and improve systems, strengthen guidance services, strengthen policy support, and create a good atmosphere, etc., in order to create a good environment and conditions for the development of the armed department of universities.

Conclusions

In summary, the arming work in universities is an important component of national security work, an important way to achieve comprehensive development, and an important aspect of serving local economic development. We must have a clear understanding of the situation and effectively enhance our understanding of how to effectively carry out arming work in universities, and we need to find a precise positioning and focus on the arming work of universities, driving the overall situation to improve. In terms of specific measures, we can ensure the orderly development of arming work in universities by strengthening organizational leadership, institutional construction, policy support, and other aspects. At the same time, it is necessary to strengthen cooperation and exchanges with local governments, enterprises, social organizations, and other aspects, and jointly promote the development of arming work in universities to a higher level.

References:

- [1] Huang Yuejin. Efforts should be made to effectively carry out the arming work in universities [J] National Defense, 2017(5): 5.
- [2] Liu Tinghui. Reflections on Strengthening the Arming Work of Higher Education Institutions in the New Era [J] Contemporary Education Practice and Teaching Research: Electronic Version, 2015(9): 2.