1. The necessity of strengthening labor education in the new era

Entering the new era, the country is bound to face many new situations, new situations and new developments. Young Marxists are bound to face new problems in the development tide of the new era, which puts forward new requirements for the current education of the Qingma Project, especially labor education.

1.1 Labor education is the guarantee for the growth of young Marxist in the new era

2021 is the first centenary of the CPC leading the people of all ethnic groups to forge ahead. It is also the centenary of the Chinese nation standing among the nations of the world with a new face. Whether it is fighting against external humiliation, national independence, or the continuous improvement of the comprehensive national strength of reform and opening up, the historic solution to absolute poverty is the result of the hard work of generations of workers. Although we have made remarkable achievements in the past 100 years and further strengthened our national self-confidence and pride, in the new era, in the journey to realize the Chinese dream of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation, the labor of workers is still the foundation. Young Marxists must truly love labor, become laborers and respect all labor achievements from the heart, so as to live up to the efforts and efforts of their predecessors, and always stand closely with the people. Only in this way can young Marxists in the new era grow up healthily and become high-quality talents.

1.2 Labor education is the magic weapon for young Marxists to forge political quality in the new era

Marx pointed out that "the combination of productive labor with intellectual education and physical education is not only a way to improve social production, but also the only way to cultivate people with all-round development." Young Marxist in the new era, in their daily study and life, Marxist theory is an important theoretical system that they should always hold in their hands and keep in mind to guide their words and deeds. Young Marxists should constantly strengthen their ideals and beliefs, enrich their feelings of home and country, and consolidate their theoretical foundation by reading Marxist theories, especially the classic works of Marxism, word for word. In doing things, they should be loyal to their duties and serve the public with good qualities, and become the learners, disseminators and practitioners of Marxist theories. The Marxist concept of labor is an important connotation of Marxist theory. It pays attention to the practical education of young Marxists and advocates that young people strengthen practical training, especially at the grass-roots level, in the front line, in places or posts with relatively difficult conditions. Therefore, labor education is an important magic weapon to cultivate young Marxists in the new era not to forget their original intentions and keep their mission in mind, but also an important starting point for high-quality training of builders and successors of socialism with Chinese characteristics.

2. Development of labor education in the new era

What, who will teach and how to teach in labor education is a complete set of education and teaching system, which directly determines the educational effect of labor education curriculum. In the context of the new era, combined with the needs of social development and the learning habits of contemporary youth, the development of labor education should pay attention to the following points:

2.1 Selection of teaching content

After the 19th National Congress, the national universities, primary and secondary schools actively implemented the call of the CPC Central Committee to integrate labor education into education and teaching in various forms, and further strengthened the training of young Marxist labor values and the improvement of labor skills. In order to achieve the educational effect, the determination of educational content is very important. At the same time, thematic academic lectures, cutting-edge learning reports and the timely integration of necessary practical courses can make the finishing point for the educational effect of labor education.

2.2 Setting of teaching links

It is obvious that labor education should pay more attention to the training of practical skills, especially the explanation of theory should match the setting of practical courses, so that young Marxists in the new era can think in learning and feel in practice, so as to achieve the best educational effect. Classroom is the main channel of educating people in the new era. On the basis of respecting the main channel of educating people in theoretical classroom teaching, labor education should timely organize young Marxists to go to the countryside, go deep into the factory, and sink to the forefront of the mass community and other frontlines, so as to engage in basic labor, social research, visit or exchange. At the same time, making full use of the winter and summer holidays to carry out practical teaching of labor education and improve the practical teaching settings of labor education are effective measures to promote young Marxists to get familiar with the Party, national conditions and social conditions, increase knowledge, expand vision and exercise skills. Especially in the process of labor education, colleges and universities should pay more attention to the common teaching problems such as "valuing theory over practice", "instilling teaching" and "divorced from reality" in the setting of teaching links, and make great efforts to cultivate qualified builders and successors for the country and society around the fundamental task of establishing morality and cultivating people.

2.3 Establishment of teaching team

Teacher, answer questions! Teachers play a vital role in the quality of teaching, the quality of teaching effect and the realization of teaching objectives. Therefore, in the process of labor education and teaching, selecting teachers with solid theoretical foundation, excellent practical skills and building a reasonable talent pool are the top priority. In combination with the proportion of Marxist theory in the labor education curriculum, the teachers of the labor education curriculum can choose the teachers of the Marxist Institute to undertake. It is worth noting that the teachers of the Marxist Institute should be trained in practical skills. Only after the training is qualified can the labor education curriculum teaching be started.

3. The significance of the new era for the labor education of young Marxists

The Opinions on Comprehensively Strengthening Labor Education in Universities, Middle Schools and Primary Schools in the New Era pointed out that we should "take the value orientation of quasi-labor education, guide students to establish a correct view of labor, advocate labor, respect labor, enhance feelings for the working people, serve the country and contribute to the society". For young Marxists in the new era, it is necessary to gradually consolidate their theoretical foundation through labor education, make them become learners, disseminators and practitioners of Marxist theory, and guide them to respect and advocate labor. It is also necessary to have deep feelings for the working people, have great ambitions for the Party and the country, and have excellent ability to contribute to society.

3.1 Ensuring that the Party's cause has successors

Labor education is one of the targeted measures of college education in the new era for the issue of "who, how and for whom to cultivate people", and it is also a core measure to cultivate builders and successors for the CPC to lead the people of all ethnic groups to achieve the second centennial goal. Since the founding of the CPC, the broad masses of the people have seen hope and light. The century long struggle has also witnessed that Chinese people are infinitely close to the Chinese dream. The root is the selfless risk and hard work of countless young Marxists. Now, the labor education in the new era must be based on the latest achievements of Marxist theory and the sinicization of Marxism, to further exercise practical skills, guide them to improve "four consciousness", enhance "four self-confidence" and achieve "two maintenance". With outstanding achievements, excellent skills, innovative spirit, and the courage to work hard, we actively participate in the historical process of the rejuvenation of the Chinese dream of the Chinese nation. Among young Marxists in the new era, labor has become a fashion, a manifestation of value, and an important way of comprehensive development with consensus.

3.2 Guiding young Marxists to respect labor achievements

Labor is the most beautiful and glorious. This is the deepest emotion of every young Marxist. In the context of the new era, no matter the country, society, school or family, learn, feel the hardship of labor, the joy of labor and enjoy the achievements of labor in daily production, so as to guide young Marxists to love labor, cherish the results of labor and respect the working people. At the same time, we should promote the "model worker spirit" and "craftsman spirit" to the greatest extent, and use vivid cases that can be seen and touched to carry out hands-on and on-site teaching.

In the new era, whether for the lecturer of labor education or the educatee, it is a systematic and complex project, especially for labor education. This requires that, in the process of education and guidance, the country, society and family form a joint force to lay a good foundation and pave the way for young Marxists who are in a new era, facing new situations and urgently need to solve new problems.
