Abstract: from the perspective of “great ideological and political education”, actively promoting the construction of the school’s three complete education mode can promote the development of curriculum ideological and political work, enhance the value of Ideological and political education, and guide the formation of the collaborative education and education mode of the whole staff. Colleges and universities should jointly practice in all fields and the whole process of higher education, adhere to education oriented and moral education first, strengthen all-round and all-round education, promote the construction of the overall ideological and political pattern, and ensure the smooth development of the exploration of the “three complete” education mode.

Key words: “great ideology and politics”; Colleges and universities; Three complete education; explore Introduction: Ideological and political education is omni-directional and ubiquitous. In the ideological and political education work and the construction of the three complete education mode in Colleges and universities, teachers should go deep into all aspects of students’ life, enrich education methods, give students ideological and political education and guidance from multiple dimensions, and improve the construction of campus culture and ideological and political work in Colleges and universities. The construction of the education mode of “three complete education” should adhere to the goal of moral education, promote the development of higher education, and promote the smooth development of Ideological and political education in Colleges and universities. As the implementation of the total quality management system, the construction of the “three complete education mode” to realize the effective operation of the collaborative mechanism of morality and talent cultivation and to play the educational function, colleges and universities need to pay attention to the development of students, promote the improvement of the overall teaching quality, take diversified means to ensure the development of education work, and construct an education mode suitable for the development of colleges and universities.

1 Analysis of the connotation of the three complete education mode in Colleges and universities from the perspective of “great ideological and political”

1.1 Analysis of the connotation of "three complete education mode"

The three aspects of education include the main body of education and the practice of education. The three aspects of education need to promote the overall promotion of the school, and also need the joint participation and assistance of the government, society and families. The teaching staff and students inside the school need to form a common sense of participation, form a big ideological and political work pattern, and promote the improvement of students’ comprehensive ability. From the perspective of Ideological and political education, teachers need to help students develop comprehensive abilities and promote the common improvement of morality and skills. Promote students to establish correct socialist core values. Under the three complete education mode, the great ideological and political pattern can promote the teaching effect of quality education, improve the training quality of students, promote the integration of educational resources, optimize the training quality of talents, and promote the three complete education can also provide the guarantee of talent base for national construction and social development.

1.2 Requirements of three complete education mode in Colleges and universities from the perspective of "great ideological and political"

First of all, at a time when the ideological and cultural environment is relatively open and broad, the ideological and political education model should establish a more professional model. From the perspective of Ideological and political education, the ideological and comprehensive education model can lead the professional development of the three complete education model. Education requires the participation of college teachers and educators from all departments, and the use of all kinds of educational resources, In the overall process, teachers should deeply understand the concept of “three complete education”, internalize it into their own consciousness, and realize the construction of professional ideological and political education team, discipline and system. Secondly, the three complete education model is a model based on practical experience. Practice plays an important role in education and is the main clue of Ideological and political education. From the perspective of “Ideological and political education”, colleges and universities should highlight the practicality in the process of constructing the three complete education mode, broaden the channels and paths of practice, guide teachers and students to actively participate in practice, set up correct practical goals, and implement the three complete education. Moreover, from the perspective of Ideological and political education, the construction of the three complete education mode requires universities to carry out innovation, plan more diversified education subjects, integrate education resources, and then promote the formation of cooperation mechanisms to support the education pattern of “Ideological and political education”.

2 The significance of constructing the “three complete education mode” in Colleges and universities from the perspective of “great ideological and political”

First, the three complete education from the perspective of Ideological and political education can make education more valuable. Lay a foundation and provide support for the development and progress of Ideological and political work and the optimization of Ideological and political pattern. China attaches great importance to the development of Ideological and political education for students in Colleges and universities, and pays special attention to the cause of education. Colleges and universities should make clear what kind of people to cultivate, how to cultivate people, and for whom to cultivate people, strengthen the cultivation of high-quality compound talents, attach importance to the development of moral education, and integrate ideological and political content into the teaching of different majors and disciplines, Actively develop the mode of Ideological and political education. The construction of a large ideological and political pattern is not only conducive to the realization of Ideological and political education, but also can provide motivation for students’ learning and boost the development of colleges and universities. Second, ideological and political education can renew its vitality under the joint promotion of the “three complete education” and the “great ideological and political” pattern. Colleges and universities should pay more attention to the ideological and political work of college students, actively cooperate with families and society, form a multi-body educational force, integrate the updated development concept into the ideological and political education, and promote the scientific development of Ideological and political education.

3 The construction strategy of “three complete education mode” in Colleges and universities from the perspective of “great ideological and political”

3.1 Strengthen reform and improve working mechanism

Under the new situation, in order to promote the work pattern of “great ideological and political work” in a coordinated way, we need to comprehensively plan educational resources, lay the foundation for the formation of the “three complete education” mode, and escort the development of the work pattern of “great ideological and political work”. At the same time, the pattern of Ideological and political work can also promote the improvement of the situation of three complete education, promote the development of quality education, help students develop patriotism and progressive consciousness, and promote their success. Specifically, first of all, colleges and universities should ensure the leadership of the organization, lay a good foundation for innovation and development, promote the development of the country and society, strengthen the improvement of the unified leadership model, clarify the leadership, strengthen the guidance of the ideological work of colleges and universities, and set up the working mechanism according to the situation of colleges and universities. At the same time, the leading organizations of colleges and universities should also pay full attention to the ideological and political education work, comprehensively promote the integration of education and teaching work and ideological and political work, cooperate with various departments and colleges to carry out ideological and political work, and promote the construction of the “big ideological and political” pattern. University leaders need to promote the improvement of ideological awareness, formulate guidelines for the development of colleges and universities, promote the ideological awareness of teachers and students, actively promote the development of Ideological and political education, and ensure the stability of the working mechanism of quality education. Secondly, the departments of colleges and universities should strengthen the establishment of working mechanism and strengthen the propaganda of Ideological and political education. For example, colleges and universities can promote the organizational optimization of the school, strengthen the integration and development of publicity and education. The leadership organization of the university should also attach importance to and pay attention to the organizational work, ensure the completion of the overall goal of Building Morality and cultivating people, strengthen the ideological education of the teaching staff, and enhance the awareness of the importance of Ideological and political education of the teaching staff.

3.2 Optimize the process and promote the three complete education

In the process of building a system of all-round education, all-round education and the whole process of education, colleges and universities should actively carry out the work of campus culture, subject research and management, cooperate with the effective development of education, and promote a more comprehensive education process. Optimizing the process of education can promote the integrated and comprehensive development of “three complete education”, lay a good foundation for the work system of Ideological and political education, promote the implementation of Ideological and political education, and improve the attention to ideological and political education. First of all, colleges and universities should implement the requirements of “three complete education”, make the education process more standardized, and formulate relevant standards and systems. Colleges and universities should combine the relevant theoretical basis, the actual development of the school and the predetermined development path to formulate the corresponding system and education methods, improve the ideological and political education management system, promote its continuous progress and reform, ensure the accumulation of practical experience in the operation process, and then promote the optimization of the mechanism and strengthen the management system. At the same time, colleges and universities should carry out supervision work, timely recognize the problems existing in the process of practice and solve them, organize and construct appropriate supervision groups, ensure the perfection of Ideological and political education and operation mechanism, and promote the progress of education work in Colleges and universities. Secondly, colleges and universities can set up a professional group of Ideological and political educators to take charge of the production of copying the ideological and political education work in Colleges and universities, and implement the practical work of Ideological and political education. A professional team can coordinate all aspects of Ideological and political education in Colleges and universities, take into account the whole stage, design appropriate moral education goals and education plans, coordinate the scientific research, teaching, management and service aspects of education, set up education and teaching, practical activities, psychological consultation, network platform construction, campus culture construction and other work in Colleges and universities, and grasp important nodes, Promote the coordination of education teams at all levels and education work.

3.3 Application network, strengthen platform construction

Colleges and universities should flexibly use the Internet to carry out ideological and political education, actively carry out online education, use the Internet to carry out pre evolutionary and modern reform and adjustment of students' Ideological and political education, and integrate the student-centered concept into the ideological and political education. First of all, under the background of modern education reform, colleges and universities should enhance students' interest and enthusiasm in Ideological and political education through the construction of network education. For example, colleges and universities can use wechat platform, group chat, video platform and other platforms to strengthen the ideological and political education propaganda work for students and improve the construction of education platform. From the perspective of practicality, the school should provide students with the opportunity to communicate with teachers, strengthen the design of education platform, improve the function of consultation and service, so that students can use the network platform to select the content they are interested in at any time to carry out learning, and make full use of its fragmented time. At the same time, students can carry out exchanges and communication with teachers through the Internet-based education platform, and teachers can timely answer students' questions, solve students' doubts, and promote them to maintain correct ideas and values. Secondly, in the network education work of colleges and universities, educators should pay attention to the education of students, ensure the improvement of students' discrimination ability, and also need to build education and other functional modules in the network platform, such as teachers' research function. Educators can log in to the platform to carry out learning, improve their ideological and political level and ideological and political teaching quality, and promote the update of teaching philosophy and teaching mode. Moreover, colleges and universities should establish a practical education platform. In the process of carrying out ideological and political education, they should enrich the education methods, use various educational resources, and realize the key nodes of Ideological and political education in an all-round way on the network platform. For example, teachers should find appropriate teaching resources on the education platform, lead students to formulate education plans, supervise and manage them, carry out the construction of study style Education evaluation, etc.

3.4 Integrate resources and guide all staff to participate

In order to build a "big ideological and political" pattern under the three complete education mode of full staff, whole process and all-round education, we need the active participation of all education subjects, including families, society, government and universities, to actively carry out ideological education and form the awareness of jointly carrying out ideological and political education. The development and progress of the Internet has promoted the propaganda work of network ideology in Colleges and universities. In the process of propaganda work, families can participate more in education and form a comprehensive education mode. Colleges and universities should cooperate with the society and the government to assist the propaganda work, so as to build a more harmonious growth environment for students, protect families, society The active participation and collaborative education of government education departments. At the same time, in cooperation with all sectors of society and government education departments, colleges and universities can tap more educational resources, create a better teaching environment for students, and ensure the implementation of Ideological and political education. For example, teachers can carry out resource integration through the cooperation of the government, schools, families and society, promote the work pattern of full-time education, whole process education and all-round education, promote the full use of Ideological and political education resources, guide students to establish correct values and ideas, and guide students' growth, development and progress in the active cooperation of various parties.

3.5 Overall coordination and assessment

In the perspective of "Ideological and political education", to build the three complete education mechanism, we need to set up the evaluation and assessment mechanism as the guarantee, and ensure the efficiency and quality of Ideological and political work with a rigorous and scientific attitude and scientific and rigorous evaluation and assessment mechanism. The establishment of evaluation and assessment mechanism can promote the development of “three complete education”, adhere to the educational goal of Ideological and political education, clarify the responsibility and mechanism of the educational subject, and adhere to the teaching goal of Ideological and political education. From the perspective of “great ideological and political work”, the “three complete education” needs to formulate evaluation standards and set up evaluation methods of performance appraisal to ensure the organization and smooth development of educational activities. Adhere to the educational objectives of Ideological and political education, clarify the performance evaluation of multiple educational subjects, strengthen the evaluation system, and ensure the smooth implementation of various measures.

Conclusion: from the perspective of “great ideological and political education”, to carry out the construction of the three complete education mechanism, colleges and universities need to take the three complete education and student-centered concept as the guidance, think and study how to build a reasonable talent training mode in Colleges and universities, and strive to provide a theoretical basis and practical basis for the innovation of the mechanism and organization of comprehensive education.
