Abstract: Labor education is one of the important contents of the all-round development of morality, intelligence, physique, beauty and labor. Integrating labor education into college students' daily ideological and political education can more efficiently cultivate college students to establish good values of labor, view labor from a correct point of view, constantly strengthen the deepening study and practice of ideological and political education theory from the labor production practice activities, and promote the innovative development of labor education. To do a good job in the integration of education is to clarify the value, logic and practice of labor education into college students' daily ideological and political education, analyze the deep significance of education integration from three levels, and further promote the integration of labor education and ideological and political education.

Key words: labor education; ideological and political education; college students

Labor education is a fine tradition of the education cause of the Communist Party of China and one of the main contents of college students' education. Labor education is one of the contents of "moral, intellectual, physical, aesthetic and labor", and it is an important part of the comprehensive and free development of human beings. Labor education refers to the purpose of education in the process of daily labor, its purpose is to make the object of education develop correct labor concept. The National Education Conference proposed that "Efforts should be made to build a comprehensive education system for the training of morality, intelligence, physique, beauty and labor, and to form a high-level talent training system". This guides the development direction of ideological and political education in colleges and universities in the new period. The main way to cultivate college students' daily behavior and ideal and faith is to integrate labor education into the ideological and political education system of college students. It can faster help college students to understand learning Marxist labor concept, understand the important theoretical spiritual connotation of socialism with Chinese characteristics on "labor", guide the new era of college students form correct labor concept, cultivate college students' labor skills learning, cultivating college students to carry forward the thrift, dedication, hard, struggle of labor spirit, promote the development of people's comprehensive ability.

1 The value orientation of labor education into daily ideological and political education

1.1 Accelerate target practice

The party's 20th annual report points out: "Education is an important task for the country and the Party. Ideological and political education and labor education are consistent in the training goal. The training goal of ideological and political education is to promote the free and all-round development of people and to cultivate the new youth of the era with wisdom and ability. Labor education helps college students to establish a good labor consciousness and develop good labor behavior habits. Labor education has the comprehensive value of cultivating virtue, increasing intelligence, strong body and cultivating beauty. Carrying out labor education can help students to deepen their understanding and cognition of theoretical learning in practical activities. Ideological and political education is the main position to correctly guide college students to establish the correct labor concept. Effectively guiding the integration of labor education into the practice of ideological and political education can give better play to the educational function of labor education, play the educational function of ideological and political education, and promote college students to the comprehensive and free development steadily.

1.2 Cultivate values

In the road of healthy growth of college students in the new period, the most important thing is the formation of outlook on life and values, which is also the focus of the daily ideological and political education in colleges and universities. The formation of the correct labor concept has a supporting role in promoting the correct values of college students. The value of labor education is very rich, labor education can effectively enhance the understanding and awareness of labor, improve the level of cognition of labor, and cultivate and shape the daily labor emotions of college students. In labor practice, labor education not only helps to promote cultivating students form correct labor practice concept, also can encourage college students to develop good working habits, develop new labor skills, and development form correct, positive labor character, organic integration of ideological and political education ideas, improve the effectiveness of ideological and political education work, promote the comprehensive free development of people.

1.3 Drive innovation

Labor skills learning is one of the contents of labor education. Labor skill is the method that must be used when the individual undertakes labor production or labor practice activity. Labor education can educate college students to master the necessary labor skills, which can not only improve the labor quality of college students, but also constantly innovate the content of labor education. In the process of labor education, we should not only pay attention to the training of labor skills, but also neglect the study of labor-related theories. Labor concept shaping, labor practice activities, labor theory education and labor skill training are all important contents of labor education. Through continuous labor practice activities, we can further verify the truth of theory, continuously promote the innovation and development of theory, enrich the theoretical system, and lay a solid foundation for the all-round development of college students.

2. The logical orientation of labor education into daily ideological and political education

2.1 Labor education and the daily ideological and political education of college students are practical in essence

The essence of ideological and political education is practical. Labor education can teach students the basic labor knowledge and skills, and let college students understand the nature and value of labor, and fully understand the great significance of labor to social production and social development. There are many forms of practical labor activities, and the forms of labor education are also very rich. In the process of college students' participation in labor practice and education activities, in addition to can personally participate in the practice itself, exercise labor practice ability, learning professional labor skills, promote the correct labor spirit, also can further study and understand the ideological and political education principle and methodology, farewell learning labor skills, improve labor ability, and further apply theory in practice, further deeply study the practical value of labor. From this point of view, the essence of labor education and ideological and political education is practical, and the integration of labor education into the daily practice of ideological and political education can more effectively implement the practical needs of ideological and political education.

2.2 Labor education and college students' daily ideological and political education are compatible in the goal

The purpose of cultivating ideological and political education activities is to promote the all-round development of people. The daily ideological and political education of college students is to enable students to strengthen their ideals and convictions and establish correct values through the short time they study at school and through the rich study exchanges, ideological exchanges, and social exchange activities. Comprehensive human development is the intrinsic requirement and realistic foundation of the fundamental interests of the masses of the people. Through all kinds of ideological and political education activities carried out by colleges and universities, students can adapt to the development needs of modern society faster and better, achieve the unity of material life development and ideological and spiritual life development as soon as possible, and promote all-round free development. Labor education cultivates college students to establish a correct sense of labor, form good labor habits, and in the practice of labor production, produce the concept of loving labor, and continuously develop labor skills, exercise labor ability, and realize the coexistence of ideological development and ability development, so as to promote the comprehensive and free development of people. From this point of view, labor education and the training goal of daily ideological and political education complement each other.

2.3 Labor education is consistent with daily ideological and political education in direction

Colleges and universities are the main position for cultivating college students' ideals and beliefs, and also the forefront of maintaining college students' ideology, and the daily ideological and political education work of college students is an important educational activity for students to carry out ideal and belief education, and shoulders the important mission of social moral and cultural dissemination. China is a socialist country, and history is made by working people. Contemporary young students must always adhere to the road of socialism with Chinese characteristics, consciously participate in social production and other labor practice activities, and contribute their meager strength to the construction of communism. Therefore, labor education has an inseparable connection with the daily ideological and political education of college students.

3. The practical orientation of labor education into daily ideological and political education

3.1 Promote the construction of labor practice platforms, and enhance the practicality of college students' daily ideological and political education

Colleges and universities should continue to promote the construction of practical education platforms and places, constantly expand the construction of practice bases from inside to outside, from school to outside school, explore social resources, condense the core of labor education, and promote the smooth development of labor practice activities. Colleges and universities should actively carry out the construction of social practice bases inside and outside the school, build special classrooms for practical teaching, and promote the construction of labor practice platform. In the process of cultivating college students' good working habits, we should lead college students out of the classroom, out of the campus, and into the society. Teachers should play their own leading role, and participate in labor production and other practical activities together with students. In the process of cultivating college students' good working habits, we should not be limited to the classroom in the classroom, but should lead college students out of the classroom, into social practice. Teachers should play their own leading role, and participate in labor production and other practical activities together with students. When college students participate in these social practice activities, they can also test the theoretical knowledge of ideological and political education learned in daily life, test the true knowledge in practice, and enhance the practice of ideological and political education of college students.

3.2 Integrate the ideological and political theory curriculum system, expand the new vision of daily ideological and political education

Colleges and universities should make full use of the ideological and political theory classroom, add labor culture education elements in the classroom, and give full play to the educational function of the ideological and political theory classroom. In the daily ideological and political education of college students, we should pay attention to the accumulation of typical materials of labor culture, constantly summarize the relevant materials of labor culture, and bring the latest achievements into the construction of ideological education theory course system. Labor education materials can be compiled to form classroom education materials, or apply for project approval separately and apply for labor education projects in school. We can also carry out the selection of labor education materials, expand the content of labor education, and actively promote the construction of ideological and political theory curriculum system. At the same time of accumulating labor culture materials, the content of labor education can be incorporated into the ideological and political education work plan of colleges and universities, and the content of labor education can be integrated into the daily ideological and political education theory course study, to give full play to the educational subject of ideological and political theory course. We can deepen the impression of labor education in the minds of students, constantly deepen the core of labor education culture spirit, promote the integration of big labor education materials and ideological and political theory system, increase the pertinence and interest of the daily ideological and political education content of college students, and expand the new vision of ideological and political education of college students.

3.3 Promote the establishment of collaborative education mechanism, and innovate the way of college students' daily ideological and political education

It is necessary to integrate labor education into the daily ideological and political education of college students to construct a large pattern of collaborative education in college education. Teachers and counselors of ideological and political education in colleges and universities are important workers in ideological and political education. The mechanism of collaborative education requires teachers not only to fully highlight the focus of ideological and political education, but also to highlight the importance of labor education in teaching practice. This requires college teachers to build a communication platform between ideological and political education and other professional education in the daily teaching of professional courses, explore labor cultural elements in the study of professional courses, make labor education run through the whole process of cultivating students 'training, cultivate students' awareness of treating labor correctly, and shape the positive concept of labor. So, students in the classroom can learn the meaning of labor education, and in the labor practice of theoretical knowledge learning, improve the level of students 'labor skills, exercise students' labor ability, promote labor education mechanism and collaborative education mechanism innovation and development, thus creative development of college students' ideological and political education value leading way.
